The third meeting was,therefore,eagerly anticipated by both clubs.Unfortunately for the Victoria, four or five of their best men were unable to play,and their team,therefore,was not so strong as in the match against Manchester a fortnight ago."

OXFORD UNIVERSITY 1 (H.P.Alleyne) WANDERERS 0 (In the Parks, Oxford)(H.T.0-0)

Field 25/11/76 P.647/Sportsman 25/11/76 P.8 (Very short report: no teams)/ (No Full Report or teams in SL/BL/SG nor in Oxford Journal/Oxford Times):

F: "This match was played at Oxford, in the Parks, on Saturday, Nov. 18, in the most unfavourable weather. The pouring rain and marshy ground made it impossible for the players to keep their legs, or the spectators to attend in the usual numbers. Still, the game was spirited throughout, and so evenly contested, that it was not till within twenty minutes of the finish that the single goal was kicked by Alleyne for Oxford, after a brilliant run half-way down the ground. There can be little doubt that the best team won; but the result cannot be taken to auger anything for the Cup ties, as (apart from the miserable state of the ground) the Wanderers were by no means fully represented, while several prominent members of the Oxford team were also away. As for the details of the play, one of the most noticeable features was the efficiency of Kinnaird as back for Wanderers. Of the forwards Wace and Denton worked hardest. For the University there was a great want of combined play, and a great deal of mischief was done by the forwards getting in front of the ball and obstructing their own side. The slipperiness of the ball must be the excuse for their backs not displaying quite their usual form."

Although the ball was kicked in every possible square foot over the tape, round the posts, and between the posts, the Rifles were unable to force the ball through the four goalkeepers and five backs with which the Roamers defended their goal. Harrow)(H.T.0-0)(Harrow Rules)

+This second goal was claimed by Harrow under their rules for a "fair catch" and kick through goal
but disallowed:scorer as per FA 1877 Harrow Results in a 2-2 score

N.B.A "fair catch" before the final clock striking to end the game and goal immediately kicked by one of the boys was claimed to be in accordance with Harrow Rules and further that off-side was not claimed by the opposing captain (see letter in Field 17/2/77 P.187) .A response letter in Field 24/2/77 P.219 said this Harrow Rule was out of date,that offside need not be claimed by the captain and further that in any event that the ball never went between the posts.

F: "The rains of the last few months having converted the match ground into a swamp, recourse was had to a higher and drier portion of the field. At 2.15 the contending parties, travel stained as they were after their passage through the slough, faced each other, the Wanderers, who had only turned out nine strong, being reinforced by one of the School team, to make the sides ten all."

+Plus 1 disputed goal:see below

Field 17/2/77 P.189/Sportsman 14/2/77 P.4/Bell's Life 24/2/77 P.5(Late report)

F:"On ends being changed the Wanderers seemed to have a great chance of winning the match,but a desperate and well-concerted rush of all the R.E.'s forwards carried the ball past the Wanderers' backs,upsetting them right and left,and finally,evading Betts's well-meant effort,sent the ball through the goal,amidst the frantic excitement of the spectators."

"About three minutes before time,a claim of hands gave the Wanderers a free kick about thirty yards from goal;Lindsay placed the ball well in the goal mouth,amongst a surging mass of heads.
After a few moments of intense excitement the ball was seen to pass through the goal,and the cheering was deafening.A claim of hands was made by the R.E.'s,and gave the umpires much trouble,one giving it hands,the other a goal,and the referee on being appealed to,was obliged to own that he had been too far off to see,and could give no decision;the goal therefore had to be put down as a disputed one,though the faulty Wanderer subsequently owned that he had handled freely."

+Another disallowed:see below

Bell's Life 14/4/77 P.4/Sporting Life 11/4/77 P.3:

+BL:"It was then agreed to play for an additional half-hour.The Leven players had the best of the first quarter,playing down the hill,but in the second,by some passing by the backs,Dunlop,on behalf of the Rangers,made a smart shy at goal,and the ball,after hitting the top of the post,was punted out by the goal-keeper.The spectators behind the goal,as if by common consent,raised a tremendous cheer,thinking,no doubt,that a goal had been scored,and the players were surrounded in an instant, amidst the wildest confusuion.The opinions of the umpires,of course,were immediatley called for by the two clubs.One of them declared that the ball had hit the bar,went under the goal,and was afterwards punted out by Wood(goal-keeper).The other gave it as his opinion that the ball struck the bar,and rebounded into play before being touched by the goal-keeper,and the referee declared he was too far away to decide the shot a goal,and it was afterwards disallowed.The crowd by this time had completely invaded the area,and the game could not proceed,so that it was agreed to play it over again.At a meting of the Scottish Football Association it was decided that the two teams were to meet again on the ground of the Queen's Park last evening,but rumour had it that the Rangers, who consider that they have won the cup,will refuse to play.This,however,remains to be seen."(See below for Second Replay)
